The Winemaker-Jeff Virnig, his story, and the wine...Robert Sinskey Vineyards "Capa" Pinot Noir

1988, Robert Sinskey Vineyards was under construction on the northern edge of the Stags Leap District. I figured RSV could use a talented young fellow such as myself and someday might even need a winemaker. I became the first Assistant Winemaker in the new facility and then, in 1991, Rob Sinskey rolled the dice and made me the youngest winemaker in Napa Valley... which takes us to this wine. In my almost three decades at RSV, we have made many wines - from RSV's aromatic whites, to the brooding SLD Cabernet, to this beautifully complex Capa Vineyard Pinot Noir – and I am proud of all of them. I am grateful for the opportunity to bring forth these creations for you to enjoy.

Tha Land

You wanna do what? It was 1992, or thereabouts, when Rob Sinskey declared, "I would like to plant my nine acres in the Carneros to Pinot Noir... and you and I should go to Burgundy and learn a thing or two before we plant it." Hell yeah, I wanted to go! Thus was born the Capa Vineyard - nine acres of Pinot Noir planted to two clones and two field selections on various row spacings and rootstocks. This lovely, single barrel of Pinot Noir is a cuvée that includes all four clones/selections from the Capa Vineyard, created especially for the one and only Mustards fine dining establishment. The vineyard is south facing, sun driven, close to dry farmed and shy producing. The wine is elegantly packed with layers of red berry, earth and spice. I believe that the difference between a good Pinot and a great Pinot is about 45 minutes. That's about the time a well crafted Pinot takes to show its full potential. Since you are enjoying this wine over dinner at Mustards, you will be able to decide for yourself if this is true.

"in good health"

Jeff Virnig

The Photograph, Photographer, and The Capa Vineyard

Capa was a man. Capa was a dog. Capa is a vineyard. Capa is my home.

I followed many breadcrumbs on an indirect path to today - a stint as a Future Farmer, a wanna-be Chef and even an appreciator of the seductive qualities of wine. These were all part of my youth but, in my teens and early twenties, I thought I would become a photojournalist. My idols had names like Henri Cartier Bresson, Eugene Smith and Robert Capa. Bresson for his ability to capture the decisive moment, Smith for his humanity and Capa for his willingness to risk life and limb in documenting the truth.

I moved to Napa in 1987 with Capa, my black and white border collie named after the Photojournalist Robert Capa. He lived to the ripe old age of sixteen - most of those years on the land that now bears his name. The photograph was taken in the early '80's when I was studying at Parson's School of Design in Paris. The location was a street named "Rue de L'Arbre Sec" which roughly translates to "road of the dry tree" or "the hanging tree." Ronald Reagan had just been elected president and the celebration was for the Fourth of July. It was one image in a series I called "The American Invasion." It is an homage to my mentors. Seems appropriate to adorn a wine from the Capa Vineyard with an image inspired by a master.

Cheers!,

Robert Sinskey

MUSTARDS GRILL CHARITY WINE & ART AUCTION: SINGLE BARREL OFFERINGS

Mustards Grill created this charity fundraising program in 1995. Each year we seek out wineries to create single barrels of wine to be sold exclusively at Mustards Grill. By making only a single barrel of wine, which is approximately 20 cases, we allow the winemaker the opportunity to take risks and experiment in ways that might be impractical on a larger scale. Therefore, these wines usually represent a distinct departure from the winery's normal repertoire. Sometimes the winemaker will select a new varietal, sometimes a specific lot from a favorite vineyard source, and sometimes an experimental vinification technique. And sometimes, if it feels right, all of the above!

Once each wine is completed, we commission an artist to portray the story of that wine using his or her chosen medium. In fact, the title of the artwork becomes the name of the wine. The finished artwork is represented on the label of each wine and the original art is framed for display at Mustards Grill. These photographs, paintings and watercolors are offered by silent auction at this restaurant. Each auction lot includes the original artwork and twelve bottles of the respective wine. The bidding continues daily until the remaining 228 bottles have been consumed. If you wish to list your bid on our auction blackboard, please ask your server for a bidding form.

A donation to Aldea Children and Family Services will be made for each auction lot sold. Aldea Children and Family Services support community-based alternatives for vulnerable children needing mental health treatment and assists developmentally disabled adults to live independently in their own homes.

We offer our sincere appreciation to each of the vintners, winemakers and artists who contribute their time, energy and considerable talents to this project.

Thank you,

Cindy Pawlcyn
